Jack the Hero

Audio CD Section 4: Expanded Story

(Page 30) This is Jack. He is walking with his mother. They are on the sidewalk. Jack can see an old man. The man wants to cross the road. A big truck is coming. The old man doesn't see it. "Look out!" shouts Jack. "What is it?" the old man asks. Jack looks at the truck as it zooms past them. "Please be careful, Mr. Bell," says Jack. Mr. Bell is very happy. He is not hurt. "Thank you, Jack" he says. Jack saves Mr. Bell. He is a hero.
(Page 32) Jack is with his friends. They are playing baseball in the playground. Kevin throws the ball and Rob hits the ball with a baseball bat. Look! Two men are holding a big window. "Jack! Catch the ball. Quick!" shouts Ann. Jack runs and jumps into the air. He catches the ball. "Got it," shouts Jack. His friends are happy. The two men are happy, too. "Thank you, Jack," says one man. The ball didn't hit the window. Jack is a hero.
(Page 34) Jack and his friends are in the classroom. They are drawing pictures. Their teacher's name is Mrs. Clark. She is talking to the class. She isn't looking where she is going. Her arm bumps a vase on the table. It is full of flowers. "Look out, Mrs. Clark!" shouts Jack. The vase wobbles and falls off the table. "Oh, no. The vase," says Mrs. Clark. Jack jumps off his chair. He dives and catches the vase. "OK. Got it," says Jack. His teacher is very happy. "Thank you, Jack," says Mrs. Clark. Jack is a hero.
(Page 36) Jack is at home with his baby sister. Her name is Jenny. They are in the kitchen. Jenny can see a pot on the stove. Jenny stands on her toes and reaches for the pot. "Stop, Jenny. Don't touch," shouts Jack. "I am hungry," says Jenny. "No, Jenny, it is hot. It is very hot," says Jack. The hot pot is very dangerous. Jack is a hero.
(Page 40) Jack is playing in the park with his friends. It is a windy day. They are flying a kite. Jack hears a noise. He looks up. He can see the branch is falling. "Look out, Tom! Look out, Sarah!" shouts Jack. "What is it?" asks Sarah. "Quick. Run to the car." shouts Jack. "OK, Jack." They run to the car. Jack jumps behind the tree. The branch falls down. Phew! They are lucky. It is a big branch. Jack and his friends are safe. Jack is a hero.
(Page 42) Jack is at home. It is nearly bedtime. Jack wants to go downstairs to drink some milk. He does not see the toy car. His mother can see the car. Jack is going to slip and fall. "Watch out, Jack!" she calls. He turns his head. "What?" asks Jack. His mother picks him up. "Got you," says his mother. The toy car falls down the stairs, but Jack is safe. Jack smiles at his mother and says, "You are my hero, Mom."
