

Numbers, Numbers Everywhere

Audio CD Section 4: Expanded Story

(Page 12) It's seven o'clock and the sun is up. It is a beautiful morning. Roy sits up in bed. He looks very happy. "My name is Roy. Today is Saturday." Roy is happy. Today is a very special day. It is April first. "Look at my room." There are numbers, everywhere in his room. "What numbers do you see?"

(Page 14) It's eight o'clock. Roy gets out of bed, eats breakfast, and brushes his teeth. "I put on my clothes," he says. He is wearing a blue cap and a blue shirt. "There is a number seven on my cap and a number eleven on my shirt." Can you see any other numbers in Roy's room?

(Page 16) It's nine o'clock in the morning, and Roy is outside. "This is my house," says Roy. "My address is 10 Park Street. The number is on the door." "Can you see my father's car?" His father's car is red. There are some letters and numbers on his father's car, too.

(Page 18) Now it's ten o'clock. Roy looks in the mailbox. He can see a letter. He is very excited. "Today is April 1st. It is my birthday," says Roy. "I am nine years old." He takes the letter out and opens it. Let's see what's inside. "I have twenty dollars." "Thank you Uncle Jim." Roy is a very happy boy. He jumps and shouts for joy. Happy Birthday Roy.

(Page 20) It's eleven o'clock. Roy is sitting on a sofa in the living room. He picks up the telephone. Who is he calling? "I am calling my friend, Jeff. His phone number is 563728. My phone number is 729145. What is your phone number?" Roy asks Jeff to go to town with him.

(Page 22) Roy and Jeff are at the bus stop. They are good friends. "We are going to town." "I want to buy a toy with my money." Can you see any numbers on the bus stop? "This is our bus," says Roy. "It is number 106." This bus is going to town. The two friends get on the bus. It leaves at twelve o'clock.

(Page 24) It's one o'clock in the afternoon. The bus takes Roy and Jeff to town. They get off the bus and walk to the toyshop. The friends see many toys. "Look at all these prices," says Roy. "The car is eight dollars. The robot is twelve dollars. How much is the kite?" Can you see how much the kite is? What can Roy buy with his money?

(Page 26) It is two o'clock. The boys are still in the toyshop. Roy looks at all the toys. He looks at the prices, and works it out. "I can buy four toys," he says. "I have twenty dollars and they are only eighteen dollars." Roy gives twenty dollars to the shopkeeper. She gives him two-dollars in change.

(Page 28) Roy and Jeff walk out of the toyshop. Roy has his bag of toys. He is a very happy boy. It's three o'clock. "I can see many numbers," says Roy. "There are numbers on stores. There are numbers on buses. There are numbers on walls." There are numbers, numbers everywhere. What numbers can you see?

(Page 30) It's four o'clock. Jeff takes Roy to a department store. They go to look at the TVs. There is a different program on each TV. "What channel do you want to watch?" Jeff asks his friend. "I don't know," says Roy. "Let's see what's on Channel One." Roy picks up the remote control. There are many numbers on it. Roy presses the number one. (Page 32) "Surprise!" Roy sees his whole family on TV. "Happy Birthday, Roy. Happy Birthday to you. You are the birthday boy." Wow! What a nice surprise. Jeff is a very good friend. Roy is nine years old today. Nine is a very nice number.

(Page 40) Mary and her classmates are in the art class. Mary is sitting at her desk. She is not drawing and she is not happy. She cannot draw very well. "It's too hard," she says. She just scribbles on her paper. Then she crumples it up into paper balls. All the other students are busy drawing pictures.

(Page 42) David is sitting behind Mary. He is drawing a race car. David is Mary's friend. He always sits behind her in art class. He can see that Mary is not happy. He loves art class. He can draw very well. He wants to help Mary.

(Page 44) David moves his chair next to Mary's. He wants her to get a good grade for art. David is sitting next to Mary. He picks up a pencil. "I can help you," says David. "Drawing is easy. I draw shapes to help me." David starts to draw on the paper.

(Page 46) David has a pencil in his hand. He is drawing a picture. "Look," says David. "You can draw a house using triangles and squares." Mary watches the shapes. The house is a square, the roof is a triangle, and the windows are squares, too. It's easy to draw with shapes.

(Page 48) Mary is feeling better now. She points to a picture on the wall. "Can you draw animals with shapes?" asks Mary. "Yes, I can," says David. David can draw lots of animals. He uses the shapes to help him. What animal do you think he is going to draw?

(Page 50) David is very good at art. He can draw different animals with different shapes. David shows Mary how to draw a dog. "You can use circles, triangles, and ovals," he says. Look at David's drawing. How many circles and triangles can you see?

(Page 52) Now David shows Mary how to draw a farmer. "You can use rectangles and diamonds," he says. He draws a farmer with a bucket and spade. Can you see the rectangles and the diamonds in the drawing? How many can you see?

(Page 54) "Now it's your turn. Try and draw a cat," says David. "You can use ovals and triangles."

Mary picks up her pencil. She draws some shapes. She draws a cat with a happy face. Mary is smiling. Can you draw a cat with ovals and triangles?

her favorite friend. Do you like art class?
